Marymount Convent School

Recommended English Reading List

For Primary 2 Pupils

Dear Parents/Guardians,

It is with great pleasure that we welcome your daughter to Primary Two! We look forward to helping your child continue to develop the skills and abilities that will enable her to become a successful, lifelong learner.

You are your daughter's first and most important teacher. Reading serves as the major foundational skill for all school-based learning. Helping your child develop into a proficient reader is a gift that will last a lifetime. These few, simple strategies and actions during the early months can make a significant difference in helping your child maintain and extend her literacy skills.

Read aloud together with your daughter every day.
\blacksquare Take turns reading. Your daughter can read books to you, younger siblings, and older siblings.
Older siblings can take turns reading as well.
Read your daughter's favourite book over and over again.
Don't forget to pack a book wherever you go during the holidays.
☐ Visit the public library regularly to borrow books that are not found in the school library.

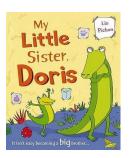

We hope this is the beginning of an enjoyable and enriching journey for your child and you!

Happy Reading!

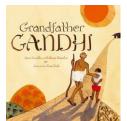

Picture Books

Lily's Purple Plastic Purse by Kevin Henkes

My Little Sister, Doris by Liz Pichon

Grandfather Gandhi by Arun Gandhi

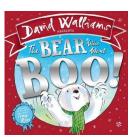

Exclamation Mark

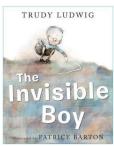

When Sophie gets Angry -Really, Really Angry ...

by Amy Krouse Rosenthal by Molly Bang

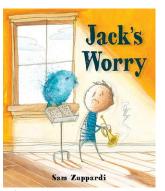

More Popular Picture Books

The Bear who Went Boo! The Invisible Boy By David Walliams

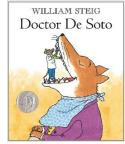

by Trudy Ludwig

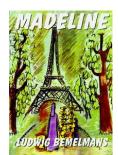

Jack's Worry by Sam Zuppardi

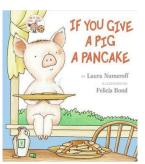

Gentle Giant by Michael Morpurgo

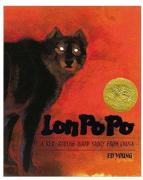

Doctor De Soto by William Steig

Madeline by Ludwig Bemeimans

If You Give a Pig a Pancake by Laura Numeroff

Lon Po Po by Ed Young

Have You Filled a Bucket Today? by Carol McCloud

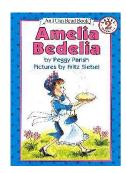

Giraffes Can't Dance by Giles Andreae

Beginning Reader Series

Amelia Bedelia by Peggy Parrish Junie B Jones by Barbara Park Freckle Juice by Judy Blume

The Phantom of Oxley Castle by Liana Gurung, Chloe Tong, Anngee Neo

Family Read-Alouds

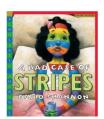

The Keeping Quilt by Patricia Poccalo The Giving Tree by Shel Silverstein Camille and the Sunflowers by L Anholt Bad case of Stripes by David Shannon

The Day the Crayons Quit by Drew Daywatt Sylvester and the Magic Pebble by William Stieg Chrysanthemum by Kevin Henkes

For Intermediate Readers

Rainbow Magic series

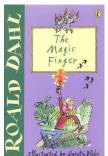

Cupcake Diaries

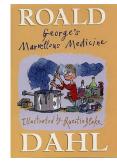

Geronimo Stilton

Diary of a Wimpy Kid Nancy Drew Diaries

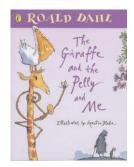

ALDDAHL

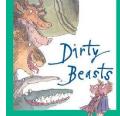

Books by Roald Dahl

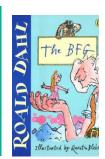

The Magic Finger

Medicine

George's Marvellous Fantastic Mr Fox

The Giraffe and the Pelly and Me

Dirty Beasts

The BFG

For Advanced Readers

The Strongest Girl in the World by Sally Gardner

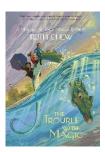

The Hundred Dresses by Eleanor Estes

Frindle by Andrew Clements

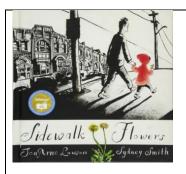

The Cat Who Went To Heaven by Elizabeth Coatworth

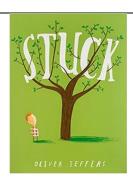

The Trouble with Magic by Ruth Chew

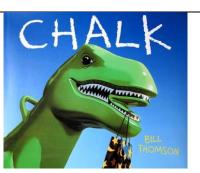

Wordless Books

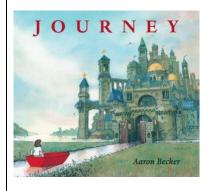

Sidewalk Flowers by Jon Arno Lawson

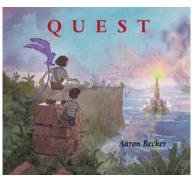

Stuck by Oliver Jeffers

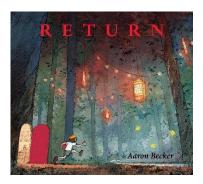

Chalk by Bill Thomson

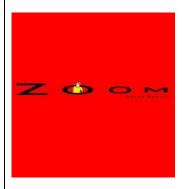

Journey by Aaron Becker

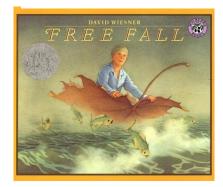

Quest by Aaron Becker

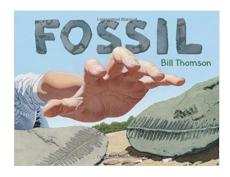

Return by Aaron Becker

Zoom by Istvan Banyal

Free Fall by David Wiesner

Fossil by Bill Thomson

child enables her to listen and speak, and create her own story in her own words.

Some tips for sharing wordless picture books with a child:

Recognize that there are no "right" or "wrong" ways to read a wordless book.

Spend time looking at the cover and talking about the title of the book. Predict what the story is about.

Enjoy the illustrations. Look carefully at the expressions on characters' faces, the setting and the use of colour. Talk to each other about the pictures.

Encourage your child to "read" you the book with her story. Focus on the words your child uses when she tells the story.

Expand her sentences or thoughts by encouraging her to add information from the illustration's details. Use

"W" questions: Who? Where? When? Why?

Wordless picture books are told entirely through their illustrations. Sharing wordless books with a